All walks must be in the office by the 3rd of the month before the month of the walk. None will be accepted after that date. (For example, the April newsletter is published in March, so walks must be submitted by March 3rd.) You can e-mail your walks to walks@walkabout-int.org, or mail them to Walkabout, 2650 Truxtun Rd. Suite 110, San Diego, CA 92106-6007. If you mail them, please use the walk information form available in our office, on our website at www.walkabout-int.org, or send a SEPARATE 8 x 11 sheet for each walk. If you e-mail more than one walk, please leave extra space between each walk.

WALKABOUT BOARD APPROVES
WALKABOUT EXPANSION TO CAPE COD, MASSACHUSETTS
At its monthly board meeting in April, the Walkabout board approved an expansion of its operations into Cape Cod, MA through a program called Walkabout International Cape Cod (WICC). The expansion will take place with the seasonal relocation of board member Dan Haslam, who has purchased a condominium residence near Hyannis Port, MA, the center of Cape Cod. Haslam will organize walks in Cape Cod later this summer and publish an electronic newsletter of walks to be held throughout Cape Cod. For the present, he plans to offer a weekly walk in several towns throughout the 50-mile long Cape. For example, on one day he’ll do a walk in Hyannis, then the next day a walk in Chatham and so forth throughout the week. As interested walk leaders are recruited they can take over individual walks and help the program expand. WICC will likely be a seasonal effort, since activities on the Cape are largely dormant between November and May, when Haslam will return to San Diego. This seasonal relocation will have no effect on Walkabout’s trip program, which will continue in its present form. A fall trip to Newport, RI and Cape Cod is already in the works, and a large interest list for this trip has been established for the group’s departure immediately after Labor Day in September. The institution of WICC may also be an opportunity for Cape Codders to visit San Diego and the expansion of our membership base.

SATURDAY NIGHT LIVE. See June 2.
In late April a group of ten flew to Baltimore, MD for a week of sightseeing in the Pennsylvania Dutch countryside surrounding Lancaster, PA. In addition, the group spent a few days in the city of Baltimore and took side trips and walks to Annapolis, MD and Washington, DC.

The Penn Dutch experience is like setting the clocks back a couple of hundred years. We toured the oldest house and grounds in Lancaster, dating from the early 1700’s. We toured the Ephrata Cloister, a 16th Century religious cult where members slept on boards a mere 15” wide and used wooden blocks or stones for pillows (and ate only one vegetarian meal per day and listened to sermons sometimes 7 hours long!). The group had early bird walks each morning and took an antique tourist train ride in Strasburg, PA through the Amish countryside. They visited a unique farmers’ market in Ephrata where the Amish show up in horse and buggies and where shoo-fly pie is high on the menu. The group learned to make pretzels in the oldest pretzel factory in America in Lititz, and visited a quilt museum and art gallery in Intercourse. They went to a college concert in Lancaster at Franklin-Marshall University. They also visited and walk-toured Annapolis, MD, and had a morning walk and personal tour of the WWII Memorial in Washington, DC, after visiting the new MLK Memorial, and the Vietnam Veterans’ Memorial, the Korean Memorial and the Lincoln Memorial. They had a driving tour of Capitol Hill and lunch al fresco at the DC fish market.

The group stayed for 3 nights at a modern hotel in Baltimore which had been converted from a 110-year old furniture warehouse. Early bird walks took in the Lexington Market, Fells Point and other attractions, and the group helped raise the huge flag that flies over Ft. McHenry, which endured a definitive battle in the War of 1812, and from which Francis Scott Key wrote our “Star Spangled Banner.” We toured the fort on the same day that Baltimore’s mayor was there although we never crossed paths. We covered a lot of ground on our week-long tour and returned sated from the chocolate, pretzel and other factories and ice cream parlors that we managed to visit.
On April, 3 ten Walkabouters boarded Celebrity Cruise Line’s Century at the San Diego docks for a 15-night cruise to Hawaii and back, including numerous ports of call during the trip. The group was treated to cabins with windows overlooking the Pacific Ocean, sumptuous meals at a private table, nightclub entertainment each evening and late night dancing and singing. Then there were the table tennis matches between Sharon Nelson and anyone else vying to beat her (few could). There were shipboard walks, and Walkabout team efforts to win trivia contests (we never did). Dinners were a group event, and in addition to the ship’s theme nights, Walkabout had its own, including Hawaiian lei night, silver star crown night, celebratory bead night, and our 35th anniversary birthday party night. We became famous for our private celebrations, and even the ship’s a cappella singing group was sporting our head pieces. There were card parties for Walkabout’s 35th Anniversary in style aboard the Celebrity Century Walkabouters (and even a few other Walkabouters not a part of our group, but also on the ship). We had tours of the bridge and informal happy hours before the four-course dinner each evening. Hula and musical instrument lessons were offered, and there were excellent speakers aboard from the Smithsonian and Cal university systems to lecture about history, zoology and other subjects. In each port of call Walkabout offered a walk around the town near the port. For example, in Honolulu we stepped off the ship and visited historic sites in Honolulu, including the first church, the state house, governor’s office, the art museum, the oldest house and Chinatown. And that was before lunch! After lunch we took a bus to Diamond Head and climbed it before trudging back to the ship. In another port the group went to a state park and snorkeled, and in still another the group visited museums and strolled around town. Although it was cool aboard the ship coming and going to Hawaii, the weather was sunny and warm in the ports. It was 15-days’ worth of Aloha moments.
